It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the FEI Open European Endurance Championship 2011 at Florac in France. This is an outstanding location, with the wild beauty of the Cévennes National Park providing a stunningly beautiful backdrop to this exciting event.

In order to satisfy the requirements for such an important competition, Lozère Endurance Equestre ran an extremely successful Test Event in 2010. The trail followed one large loop, and the competition set a record when attracting a massive 171 entries from 18 nations who battled it out over the 160km course. The trail has been improved and further refined in recent years, leading to much quicker finishing times. The average finishing speed for the 2010 fixture was an impressive 17.6 km/h.

Florac has a long link with Endurance, staging the first Continental Championship for this discipline back in 1984 just a year after the sport first became allied to the FEI.

Endurance is now the fastest-growing FEI discipline and has experienced significant development over the past ten years. In 2009 a total of 708 international events were staged, a huge increase compared to just 93 in 1993, and it is very exciting to see it go from strength to strength.

In modern Endurance competition, the emphasis is on the horse finishing in good condition, rather than the one that finishes first, and it can take years for a partnership to develop to top level. Endurance requires extensive preparation, and key to success is the support crew who help ensure the health and well-being of both horse and rider during competition. This is a truly "team" sport, and to everyone competing at these Championships, and to their dedicated support crews who play such an important role, I wish the very best of luck.

On behalf of the Fédération Equestre Internationale I also extend my best wishes to the organisers, sponsors, officials, veterinary experts, horse owners, supporters, volunteers and spectators for an enjoyable and memorable event conducted in a spirit of true sportsmanship.

C'est en 1984 qu'eût lieu à Florac le premier Championnat d'Europe d'endurance équestre... 37 ans plus tard, le Championnat d'Europe est de retour en Lozère sur le circuit mythique des « 160 Km de Florac ».

Lozère Endurance Équestre, organisatrice de l'épreuve, vous invite à vivre une aventure sportive extrême à travers les paysages grandioses du Parc National des Cévennes, et inscrits aujourd'hui au patrimoine mondial de l'humanité.

Elle a conçu un parcours itinérant, un grand raid spécifique à ce Championnat d'Europe, en respectant les valeurs traditionnelles de l'endurance: effort dans la durée, savoir faire équestre, équité sportive, respect de l'intégrité physique et morale du cheval.

Lozère Endurance Équestre et tous ses partenaires, vous souhaitent la bienvenue en Lozère, le pays du cheval d'endurance...

Le président de Lozère Endurance Équestre
Jean-Paul Boudon

The first European Endurance Championship took place in 1984 at Florac... 37 years later, the European Championship is back in Lozère, on the mythical trail of the Florac raid.

Lozère Endurance Equestre, organiser of this competition, wishes to invite you at an extreme sports adventure, throughout the breathtaking landscapes of the National Park des Cévennes, today part of the World Heritage List.

We have devised a series of point-to-point phases to make up a big loop specially designed for this European Championship true to the traditional values of endurance: stamina, horsemanship, sports ethic, respect for the horse's physical well-being and morale.

Lozère Endurance Equestre and all his partners welcome you in Lozère, the horse country for endurance.

Jean-Paul Boudon,
president of Lozère Endurance Equestre

Images du passé Historique de Florac

En 1975, le raid Équestre les "160 Km de Florac®" fût à l'initiative du Parc National des Cévennes, la première grande épreuve d'endurance à cheval qui eut lieu en France.

35 ans après sa première édition, elle est devenue une des grands "classiques" de la discipline, mais aussi un véritable mythe...

Course emblématique que tout cavalier d'endurance rêve un jour de gagner.

Le mythe des "160 Km de Florac®" s'est bien sûr construit sur les difficultés de l'épreuve: dénivellés importants, terrains accidentés, températures extrêmes, longueur de la course, mais aussi sur la beauté, la grandeur, la diversité des paysages et des lieux traversés, situés en grande partie au cœur du Parc National des Cévennes.

Images of the past History of the Florac race

In 1975, the equestrian raid "160 Km de Florac®", the Parc National des Cévennes has initiated the first real endurance competition on horseback that took place in France.

35 years after its first edition, it became one of the big "classicals" of the discipline, but also a real myth...

An emblematic race every endurance rider dreams of winning one day. The myth of the "160 Km de Florac®" was built on the difficulties of the race: important height differences, extreme temperatures, the length of the race, but also its beauty, its grandeur, the diversity of the landscapes and the crossed places, situated mostly in the center of the Parc National des Cévennes.
